

Assessment Accommodations and Examples

If students receive testing accommodations according to their IEP or 504 Plan, you will want to ensure you comply with their needs. These may include:

- A distraction-free setting
- Braille or large-print booklets
- A notetaker
- Read-aloud or screen reading technology
- Multiple or frequent breaks
- Extended time on an assessment
- Multiple or frequent breaks

Plan ahead of time to ensure that you are prepared to give students the accommodations they need. The students' teacher will be a good resource for helping you to determine the best delivery procedure.
