Descriptions of Financial Aid Sources

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is an application that students can fill out for free to access the federal student aid (e.g. federal grants, work-study, and loans) for which they qualify.¹

Pell Grants are forms of federal financial aid which do not have to be repaid with the exception of a few circumstances. To access Pell Grants, students must complete the FAFSA.²

Federal Work Study is a student aid program that provides part-time employment for students enrolled in postsecondary education to help pay for their education.³

The Federal Supplemental Education Opportunity Grant “is a grant for undergraduate students with exceptional financial need.” It is directly administered by the financial aid office at each school participating in the program.⁴

The Tennessee Vocational Rehabilitation Department offers $3,000 each semester in Transitional Learning Services funds for two academic years for their clients.⁵

The TN HOPE Scholarship is a scholarship and grant assistance program designed to help Tennessee residents attending eligible postsecondary institutions in Tennessee partake in post-secondary education opportunities.⁶

The Tennessee HOPE Access Grant is a grant assistance program for students that are not eligible for the HOPE Scholarship based on GPA and test scores. Students can receive the HOPE Access grant up to 24 attempted credit hours but may be eligible to receive the HOPE scholarship if they meet the requirements at that time.⁷

The Aspire Award is for students that are eligible for the HOPE scholarship and need some additional financial assistance. They “must have parents’ or independent student’s and spouse’s adjusted gross income of $36,000 or less on IRS tax form.” Students apply with the FAFSA.⁸

TN Promise is a scholarship and mentoring program that provides two years of tuition-free attendance at a community or technical college or a 4-year university for an associate’s degree in Tennessee. TN Promise is a last-dollar scholarship, which means that it will cover tuition and fees not covered by other sources of financial aid such as the Pell grant, the HOPE scholarship, or the Tennessee Student Assistance Award. If used at a 4-year university, TN Promise will cover up to the average price of community college ($4,000)^{9/10/11}

The Tennessee Student Assistance Award Program is a program for undergraduate students with significant financial need. Students apply with the FAFSA.¹²

The Tennessee STEP UP Scholarship is for Tennessee residents with intellectual disability who enroll in an inclusive comprehensive transition program.¹³
